Let the Willows Weep

"Speaking as an adult woman of the first generation after women's liberation began in the United States, I'm of the opinion that, while the movement started with admirable goals, the focus has shifted so greatly that it's ended up hurting the women they set out to help. And all because Eve was jealous." "You're referring to the Biblical Eve." "Yes, the first woman." "Please elaborate on that. Who was Eve jealous of, and how could she still be affecting women today, if, indeed, she was a real person?" The interviewer looked skeptical but willing to humor her.

She continued. "Shortly after the fall of man, God lists the curses each one of them- Adam and Eve- has brought onto themselves and subsequent generations because of their actions. In Genesis 3:16, while He's listing hers, He says that her desire will be for her husband, and that he will rule over her. There has been a lot of speculation over what exactly that verse means. Another translation says that she will want to control her husband, but he will dominate her. I'm no scholar, but the second translation makes more sense to me, especially considering my observations in the real world, particularly what I've witnessed in the U.S. over the past few decades. I believe Eve was jealous of Adam; she wanted to be in charge rather than letting him take the lead, which is the godly order. The reversal of the godly order, when Eve took control and ate the forbidden fruit, lead to the downfall of the entire species, and, roughly six thousand years later, here we are, still not having learned our lesson." Esme Kole had written a book outlining her beliefs and was receiving quite a strong reaction. Half way around the globe and in a completely different world, Gabe Miller was one of her biggest critics. "She's wrong," he thought to himself. "She's wrong and she's delusional. She's trying to take back every liberty women have been working towards for the last century. Somebody's got to straighten her out before she does too much damage." Each struggling to find and apply truth in the modern day while fighting their own personal demons, Gabe and Esme's worlds collide in a battle over Humanism vs. Christianity, worldly vs. godly, as a son of Adam and a daughter of Eve.

timeless and they act as mirrors of history.
I publish writings as they remain relevant anytime. I have seen a lot of good writings in the internet, in magazines and newspapers.
But most writers have only one or two articles and therefore not enough material to be published as a book. And yet, many of them need to be published. So the idea of collecting all these various writings hit me.
I myself cannot come up with enough material.
I decided to offer my services to publish anybody's worth-while writings in one fairly good sized book, in paperback or pocketbook form. Their ability to publish is solved in a nutshell. There are also writers who write a lot but never publish them. There are also old books with no more prints available. The solution is to publish/reprint. I am offering these services free of charge because of the availability of print-books-on-demand (POD) system nowadays. I can produce the book, but it's not entirely free of cost on my part. I merely assume the cost. Why put your writings in a book? And not just in the internet? I recommend that writings be retained in a hard copy or in book form or printed form for posterity. The book will always be there among your collections or libraries. Not all use the internet. The internet access has its technical problems. Writings in the internet may be erased erroneously. Free storage is hard to access. Paid storage may be returned or lost. For those looking for a publisher, especially if you have a novel or many essays, I can produce the paperback book under your own authorship at no cost. I can produce art books, family tree books, family albums/pictorials, biographies, joke books, songhits books, travelogues, reunions, color or B/W, etc. Please buy online as paperback or kindle at <http://tinyurl.com/mj76ccq> (copy and paste to your browser). Permission had been granted by the author/ authors to print their books under my free self-publishing service. They own copyrights to their works. Interested reader may request free reading of any of my books, articles or essays via online reading or ebook. Just email me: job_elizes@yahoo.com My Books Catalog can be seen at www.jobelizes6.wix.com/mysite. This catalogue will grow as years pass by because of additional titles to be published. I continue to publish or reprint books as a means to archive them in hard copy and/or digital form, for posterity. Thank you. End "Thirteen tales of the trouble people find in the capital city of Ghana when they're trying to make a buck There's plenty of noir to go around in this all-too-sad volume about people struggling to get by." --Kirkus Reviews, Starred review "This welcome volume in the Akashic noir series, set in Ghana, hits plenty of the expected bleak notes and classical noirish phrasings." --Publishers Weekly Akashic Books continues its award-winning series of original noir anthologies, launched in 2004 with Brooklyn Noir. Each book comprises all new stories, each one set in a distinct neighborhood or location within the respective city. Brand-new stories by: Nana Ekua Brew-Hammond, Kwame Dawes, Adjoa Twum, Kofi Blankson Ocansey, Billie McTernan, Ernest Kwame Nkrumah Addo, Patrick Smith, Anne Sackey, Gbontwi Anyetey, Nana-Ama Danquah, Ayesha Harruna Attah, Eibhlín Ní Chléirigh, and Anna Bossman. From the introduction by Nana-Ama Danquah: Accra is the perfect setting for noir fiction. The telling of such tales--ones involving or suggesting death, with a protagonist who is flawed or devious, driven by either a self-serving motive or one of the seven deadly sins--is woven into the fabric of the city's everyday life. Accra is more than just a capital city. It is a microcosm of Ghana. It is a virtual map of the nation's soul, a complex geographical display of its indigenous presence, the colonial imposition, declarations of freedom, followed by coups d'état, decades of dictatorship, and then, finally, a steady march forward into a promising future. Much like Accra, these stories are not always what they seem. The contributors who penned them know too well how to spin a story into a web. It is an honor and a pleasure to share them and all they reveal about Accra, a city of allegories, one of the most dynamic and diverse places in the world.

The novel is divided into two basic parts: 1) A narrator tells the story of Anna and Lucia two girls of Italian origin, who after spending a childhood and a peaceful and happy childhood in Borneo discovered a love affair between their parents, so disgusted, they decide to leave and reach Italy. Here find a very closed society, resulting in great difficulty in entering and get to know people. However, they manage to find a permanent job, but it soon proves a real torture. They are also able to find a partner, but with the help of a marriage agency. Here begin the visits to some of the most important places and monuments of Sicily, but also of Rome, Florence and Venice, where Anna spends her honeymoon. This is illustrated by several images and accurate historical reconstructions. When for the two friends finally everything seemed to go for the best, something happens In this first part, which can be defined a fable with a final suspense, however, are treated different topics of scientific, philosophical, architectural and cultural heritage. The moral of this story is designed to highlight the importance of education and wisdom handed down by our predecessors.2) The narrator of this romance is in a state of

This fast moving tale of Christian fiction joins the inquisitive nature of youth with the instinctive spirit of a dog to address universal evil. Here is an adventure where adults are returned to their times of childhood wonderment, a time before their dreams were dismissed through the cynical eyes of adulthood. Their journey, with all of its moral complexity and tough decisions, reveals some of life's very special gifts previously laid to rest before the altar of despair and bewilderment. Chowbingo and his companions operate beneath the radar of this book's adult characters as they enter into an open relationship with Val, a pre-teen youth. Do we know that heaven is for real? Do dragons watch angels fall through space? Join with his companion Val, as he struggles through his adolescent youth to learn the secret to unlocking a door to those promised gifts and treasures which have always been his, just for the asking. Learn, from this simple tale, how to move from failure and confusion to peace and satisfaction, no matter if rich or poor, young or old. Come with Chowbingo, in this family friendly book, and travel to places where you will discover that truth can truly be stranger than fantasy.

America's gun control debate. The book has been widely heralded for its wide-ranging and fair-minded coverage of the national gun culture, the history and meaning of the Second Amendment, the criminological consequences of guns, the interest groups involved, public opinion, and the policy making roles of Congress, the presidency, and the bureaucracy. In the final chapter Spitzer convincingly proposes an innovative framework based on international relations and arms control to suggest a new way to proceed toward political accommodation on the gun control issue. New to the third edition of The Politics of Gun Control is coverage of the proliferation of concealed-carry laws in cities and counties. The book covers the debate and data on the effect of these laws on crime rates, homicide rates, gun-related violence and accidental deaths. School violence—including the shooting at Columbine High and other schools around the country's also explored including: the congressional response in the aftermath of these episodes; the Senate's passing of a historic juvenile justice bill requiring background checks for gun show purchases; tougher penalties for sale to juveniles or to felons; mandatory gun locks on new handguns; and a ban on import of high-capacity ammunition clips. Also new to this edition are discussions of the liability lawsuits filed against gun manufacturers by cities and counties; NRA political funding of Republicans in the 2000 election campaign and inventive chapters, Washuta aligns the strictures of her Catholic school education with Cosmopolitan's mandates for womanhood, views memories through the distorting lens of Law & Order: Special Victims Unit, and contrasts her bipolar highs and lows with those of Britney Spears and Kurt Cobain. Built on the bones of fundamental identity questions as contorted by a distressed brain, My Body Is a Book of Rules pulls no punches in its self-deprecating and ferocious look at human fallibility.

Willow Weep for Me

Here are animated crows, a criminal monkey, an ice man, as well as the dreams that shape us and the things we wish for. Whether during a chance reunion in Italy, a romantic exile in Greece, a holiday in Hawaii or in the grip of everyday life, Murakami's characters confront loss, or sexuality, or the glow of a firefly, or the impossible distance between those who ought to be closest of all.  Murakami's new novel is coming  COLORLESS TSUKURU TAZAKI AND HIS YEARS OF PILGRIMAGE

'The reason why death had such a hold on Tsukuru Tazaki was clear. One day his four closest friends, the friends he'd known for a long time, announced that they did not want to see him, or talk with him, ever again.'

Why Willows Weep

The Disability Studies Reader collects, for the first time, representative texts from the newly emerging field of disability studies. This volume represents a major advance in presenting the most important writings about disability with an emphasis on those writers working from a materialist and postmodernist perspective. Drawing together experts in cultural studies, literary criticism, sociology, biology, the visual arts, pedagogy and post-colonial studies, the collection provides a comprehensive approach to the issue of disability. Contributors include Erving Goffman, Susan Sontag, Michelle Fine and Susan Wendell.
